MANAGING DIRECTOR'S REVIEW

A quick glance at the calendar tells me it's safe to officially celebrate another hurricane-free season. Yet, just as I get comfortable basking in the satisfaction of another natural disaster-less year, I begin to hear a voice inside my head repeating Murphy's Eighth Law: If everything seems to be going well, you have obviously overlooked something.

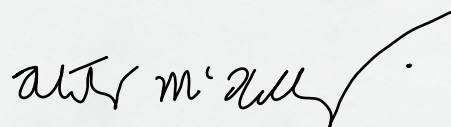

Post Covid, The Bahamas has enjoyed record tourism numbers, multiple foreign direct investment projects, and enviable weather. Add a new cruise port, stabilizing energy costs from record-high summer levels, and gradually declining unemployment levels and you've got a potent formula for post-pandemic economic growth.

Our Q4 financials reflect these advancements to some degree, with an 8.2% gain in Agency Net income ($6.55M to $7.09M) and a nearly 15% increase in Insurance revenue from our Underwriting segment ($81M to $93M). Underwriting also enjoyed a 31.9% bump in Unrealized gain on investments in securities that mitigated a 20% rise in Insurance service expenses. All these factors contributed to a 34.2% increase in consolidated net income for the 12 months ended December 31, 2023, resulting in a nearly 48% increase in Earnings per share for the company ($0.80 to $1.18) for the period.

But clouds have gathered on the horizon and deserve some recognition. We continue to grapple with a lack of reinsurance capacity, despite surging demand for property coverage in the region. In such a "hard" global insurance market—impacted by everything from wars in Europe and the Middle East to energy supply chain interruptions—this translates into higher costs. In addition, the potential for another Dorian-like storm has even prompted some insurers to reconsider their very presence in the region. Not a welcome situation for any local insurer.

We're committed to controlling our own costs and working with our partners to assuage the impact of higher rates on both existing and new customers. But the struggle is real and it continues.

I'm again thankful to our Board of Directors, for their continued support and guidance, and to our staff, who provide an unmatched level of professional service in the face of these challenges. To conclude in a spirit of positive thinking, I hope to have successfully quieted Mr. Murphy's narrative in my head by the time I post my next quarterly report.
